Candles Divine

Candles divine are you
and I,
That God has set below,
Like earthly stars nobly to light
The road that all must go.

Candles divine – lift high
your flame,
Let others share the spark,
Lest you and I behold too late
The trail before us – dark.

From "Street Lamps" by Morris Abel Beer

"In our quest for the grail of scholarship, the rays of light of cleaner sportsmanship and higher citizenship shall illuminate us all."

Winifred Adams, Editor

Prologue

The light of knowledge tends to give us the signal to accelerate as the traffic light gives the motorist or pedestrian - to accelerate "open eyed," not blindly, toward a predetermined journey. The world turns aside to let us pass when we know where we are going.

The light of knowledge has shone its radiant beams upon "the educated" for years and proved itself an invaluable asset. It has expressed itself in such an eloquent manner that an elaborate vocabulary would not do it justice. In I. M. Terrell, as in many other schools, burns the treasured flame that radiates enthusiasm, friendship, faith, and success.

Morris Turner,
Associate Editor

The Panther Staff

Dedication

The Panther Staff and journalism class of 1954 sincerely dedicate this book of memories to:

Our principal, Mr. Haymon King, who has shown on all occasions a willingness and readiness to help the staff with any of its problems; the faculty and student body for their encouragement; the art and commercial departments for their assistance with our drawings and typing; our parents for permitting us to spend late hours working with our sponsor on the annual; to William L. Garner Jr., an alumnus of Terrell High School, for designing our division pages; to Mr. Calvin Littlejohn, our photographer; to our advertisers; to others who have assisted in many ways with this project; and especially to our sponsor, Mrs. La Berta D. Phillips, for her untiring efforts, enduring patience, cheerful guidance, and inspiration as we worked together for the purpose of presenting to you this book of memories, which we hope, tells the story of the light that is being radiated at Terrell High School and of the school life as it is actually being lived at this institution of learning.

The Panther Staff

Our Theme

Realizing the importance of one's emerging from darkness into the light of knowledge and that Terrell High School, as well as other schools, offer many and varied opportunities for young people to emerge from darkness into the marvelous light, the Panther staff chose as a theme for its yearbook the word - "Light."

There is a source of light to be obtained from each activity, class, or organization in which pupils participate if they will go in search for it.

"The first creation of God, in the works of the day, was the light of the sense, the last was the light of reason." - Francis Bacon.

The Principal's Message

Greetings:

To our many parents and friends, who have cooperated with our school program through the years, I am indeed grateful.

Terrellites throughout the length and breadth of our nation have reflected credit to our school. May these varied contributions made by the alumni justify and strengthen the faith and confidence you have in our school program. It is my sincere desire that I. M. Terrell High School will continue to serve as a source of light and inspiration to boys and girls who embrace her walls.

H. L. King

Philosophy–Objectives–Probable Outcome

We believe in the dignity and worth of the individual; we believe that every child should be permitted to develop his God given talents to his maximum ability. We believe that every child should be an acceptable as well as a contributing member of society.

Our Objectives are: to develop habits of good citizenship through an understanding of democratic principles, and through application of these principles; to develop sound mental and physical health; to give guidance and direction that will enable pupils to choose wisely the vocation from which they can give the most effective service; to develop within the individual intelligent self-control; to develop in the individual a sense of responsibility for his actions and respect for the spiritual values of life.

Outcome: We hope that there will be a definite evidence that pupils will have developed, by the time they finish high school, desirable skills, habits, knowledge, understandings, abilities, and appreciations to the extent that they will be able to make intelligent Life Adjustments in our American Way of Life.

A REPRESENTATION OF A CROSS SECTION OF SPORTS FOR GIRLS

William James, an educator, once said - "Muscular vigor...will always be needed to furnish the background of sanity, serenity, and cheerfulness to life, to give moral elasticity to our disposition, to sound off the wiry edge of our fretfulness, and to make us good humored and easy of approach."

Here is a representation of a cross section of sports for girls in the physical education department -- Miss M. L. Holloway and Mrs. O. M. Belfrey, instructors.

Epilogue

The light continually shines brightly as we take our first actual step forward.....Graduation.

During the past three years we have learned and experienced many exasperating ordeals that we hadn't known before. I. M. Terrell has offered us a sufficient amount of valuable knowledge, which will benefit us greatly in the future.

We, the seniors, have overcome many obstacles, each one more difficult than the other. Nevertheless, we have finally ventured nearer and nearer as the light gets brighter, but instead of blinding us, we begin to see better and more clearly.
